User Flow

Home

After logging in one time, users will be able to instantly log into the app. At home, you are able to pick your location goal, access the menu, get your current location and share with people, and instantly access the emergency button.

The user would type in or pin drop where they are headed, so a path is established for the users to follow.

After picking where to, the user would decided if they are walking, biking, or driving to their desired location. Depending on what you choose, different ways to choose a companion will pop up.

Walk

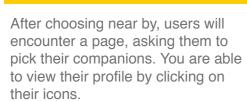

If the user chose walking, they would get an option to choose their contacts or near by for companions.

Select

After looking a profiles, they are able to choose who their companions are.

Once you have selected your companions, the path will route and the users can just continue walking with the assurance of someone is watching over them.

The user arrives home safely.
